1966

Foreword '66 . . .

The mood of a class upon the eve of its graduation is difficult to measure accurately. The achievements of some may sometimes overshadow the failures of others. In both categories, however, the impartial observer is able to conceive of human motivation or futility, supreme endurance or collapse within the realm of a student's endless quest for knowledge. Seeking the truth, one may find bigotry; finding justice, one may encounter contempt; contemplating a role in life, one may discover agony that challenges a person's character. When values once rejected are adopted voluntarily despite contrary public opinion, an individual has developed judgment, a mature trait that will remain with him indefinitely.

Accept an invitation to recreate the memories of a class whom I learned to know well. Grasp the joy and excitement that characterized their every victory, defeat, or standoff. Be grateful that their experiences prepared them to live harmoniously with friend and foe alike. See these people through the eyes of an observer who has suddenly become quite partial, having witnessed in them a new awareness of their raison d'etre, and see the intimacy of their struggle from the viewpoint of one who helped to cause it. Understand their laughter and tears—and mine.

We Dedicate the 1966 Eagle to

Miss Lois Silverberg, Chairman of the Commercial Department of Francis Scott Key High School since its opening in 1959, decided that 1966 would be her last year in the teaching profession. Her loss to the teaching profession will also be a personal loss to the student body, especially to those who will never have her for a senior class advisor. For it was Miss Silverberg who, as our class advisor, gave us much of the needed encouragement to see us through that night in June when we were suddenly high school students no longer. Of course, many of us had known Miss Silverberg in the classroom before and had come to respect her both as a teacher and as a person. To you, Miss Silverberg, the Class of 1966 dedicates the EAGLE in an attempt to say, "Well done!" for the twenty-eight years you have spent dedicating yourself to us and to others like us.

Two Who Dedicated Themselves to Us.

Mr. Grayson Shank, King of the Underworld at Francis Scott Key High School since 1959, feels that, after forty years, the time has come to retire. Although he was seldom seen walking the halls of Key, Mr. Shank certainly made his presence known to most of the student body. It was Mr. Shank who introduced most of the boys to industrial arts and was able to teach them respect for tools through their proper use. If anyone doubts Mr. Shank's effectiveness as an industrial arts instructor, he has only to look at his students' projects over the years. And, if anyone is skeptical of Mr. Shank's own manual skill, he has only to examine some of this teacher's own projects to be set straight. Mr. Shank is a perfectionist; this was readily apparent in and out of the classroom. Although this was a difficult thing for many of us to accept, there is little doubt that Mr. Shank has made a lasting impression on all who have come into contact with him. To you Mr. Shank, the 1966 EAGLE is dedicated in an attempt to say, "Thank you" for the dedication you have shown to your students and to your profession.

Principal's Message

To the Graduates of 1966:

During the twelve years you have been in school, you have entered into a great variety of activities ranging from the highly academic to the purely social. It is difficult to determine how much you have been influenced and changed by your school experiences. The most dominant indicator of how much you have profited from school will be how you behave as an adult citizen. All your teachers and I are anxious to have you leave school as confident, contributing members of society.

I hope that as graduates of Francis Scott Key High School you will never forget your school. I am confident that you will take with you a sense of morality, a responsibility to your church and your country, a wholesome philosophy of life, and a desire to do your part to improve the society in which you live.

Let me extend to you the best wishes for health and happiness in your chosen fields of endeavor.

Sincerely,

Ned C. Musser
